Japan Peace Treaty To Be Signed In San Francisco

US OFFICIALS

Washington, July 6. State Department officials confirmed on Friday that the ceremony of signing the Japanese peace treaty will take place at San Francisco during the first week of September.

These officials confirmed word from aides of the San Francisco Mayor, Mr Elmer Robinson, that the chief United States treaty negotiator, Mr John Foster Dulles, had notified the Mayor of the choice by the United States Government of that

They said no official announcement was to be made here for the present because the United States was in the process of notifying other interested governments of its choice.

to our painful detriment: We are not, of course, without spokesmen and real friends in London. As the Hongkong Government Officer in Whitehall, Mr E. G. A. Grimwood has in the past, and continues to serve well our interests. Furthermore there exists a propaganda channel through the Central Office of Information. The China Association wields some influence, although naturally its interests extend beyond a purely Hongkong horizon. Nevertheless there exist sources through which the voice of Hongkong might be more effectively trumpeted in London and the provinces. The question arises whether they are being fully utilised by the Colony. The Government PRO is now in England attending a conference of colonial public relations officers presumably designed to improve liaison between themselves and the Colonial : Office. Here is an obvious opportunity for the Colony's calcial spokesman to convince the Central Office of Information, which possesses impressive propaganda machinery, to devote more time to the dissemination of facts about

Hongkong, how its economy is maintained, what precisely are our trading and other countries, how we are being victimised by embargoes and our welfare threatened by the imposition of trading regulations and restrictions. How too, the Colony is making a very definite contribution to the Americaninspired campaign to prevent strategic materials reaching the hands of Communist belligerents. The Government PRO is in the best position to obtain and collate the necessary facts and figures, and the Central Office of Information has the most effective machinery for their distribution in Britain and the United States. Moreover we need a more sympathetic ear from the Board of Trade. It was only under pressure from the Opposition in the House of Commons that Sir Hartley Shawcross recently presented information which went some way toward clearing Hongkong's name of the many scurrilous charges laid against us by uninformed MPs in England and a misled reading public in the United States. Yet Sir Hartley can be kept constantly and fully informed about our position if he so desires. It is up to his department to keep itself informed, either through the Colonial Office or the Hongkong Government Officer established in London. For our part we are only too anxious to provide our critics with all the latest facts about ourselves. Government here has a business community willing to co-operate in compiling the essential data, and in London there are at least three sources through which it can be made most effectively public. In the meantime it is of some comfort to know that we have a friendly, interested voice in the House of Commons. We feel Mr Gammans would raise no objection if we regarded him as our unofficial representative in the Mother of Parliaments.

Grieg) Rustle of Spring (Binding) Rudolf Friml To Play Over Radio Hongkong

Radio Hongkong will present a recital of the music of Rudolf Friml from its studios between 8.15 and 8.45 on Thursday evening.

The composer of the universally-known light operas "Rose Marie" and "The Vagabond King" not dans: will play some of his own piano compositions. The recital will also include famous songs from by Albert Coales. Friml's works by two singers well-known in Hongkong's musical circles. The "Indian Love Call" from "Rose Marie" will be sung by Dora Chih, soprano, then Gaston D'Aquino and Dora Chih will sing the two duets "Only a Rose" and "Love Me Tonight" from "The Vagabond King".

"Reuters" is a name that has become so much a part of our daily life that we have ceased to wonder-if ever we did-what its beginnings were. Wednesday, July 11, is the 100th anniversary of this world-famous and world-wide news agency, and at 9.15 p.m. on that date Radio Hongkong will be broadcasting "The Reuter Story". SATURDAY, JULY 7 The programme is written by Martin Chisholm, himself a Reuter man for 16 years, and it traces the growth of this service from the time when young Julius Reuter - born Israel Josaphat began his agency of commercial information on the continent of Europe, using any means at his disposal, from pigeons to the primitive telegraph, to get his news to his clients; how in the face of competition from existing German and French agencies, he put up his plate in London in the year 1851, and how, since then, Reuters has never 10.00 THE NEWS. closed its door for a single hour, day, or night.

Someday, Gary Cooper says, you may think it quite natural to go to the surf without bothering to WHEN the rain sends slip on a pair of trunks.

He does it now when he can find a beach that isn't 000,000 dollars a week filled by Hamish Menzies, sing- cluttered up with other people.

"Once you've done it you what you've been realise missing," he said. "It's like first eating avocados." "Civilised people have been

About the only thing that holds

"We're still in a hangover from the 1890s when a man couldn't look at a woman's ankle without blushing," he said. "Take a look at any beach today. You may note the progress."

Cooper did a little missionary work while he was in Florida recenlty on location for "Distant Drums," a United States Picture being produced in Technicolour for Warner Bros. distribution. He had the whole crew heading for the beach whenever they could give the slip to the leading lady, Mari Aldon, so they could take a dip au naturel. Even Mari got the idea. She gave it a try on the beach at Naples with a pair of husky wardrobe women for protection. "Swimming, to me, 'is like lying," Cooper said. "I feel free and unencumbered when I'm in the water. 'Wrapping myself up in suits that weigh

ROCKED IN THE CRADLE OF SCIENCE

BORN before they are quite ready to start living, today's premature babies face much better odds in their fight for survival than those of yesteryear. As science makes new advances in the baitle against the deadliest of all infant killers, the mortality rate has dropped greatly.

Playing a key role in cutting down the deaths of bables bornbefore their normal time is New York City's Premature Infants Emergency Service. Started two years ago by the Department of Health and the Department of Hospitals, this service is transporting annually more than 500 undersized tots to 17° hospitals now operating specially-equipped wards for their care.

When a premature baby is born at home or in a small hospital, a call is put through to a control centre. As soon as an infirmary vacancy comes along, a nume-driver team sets out in an ambulance containing a he ated cubicle, oxygen-fed portable incubators and oxygen for long runs.

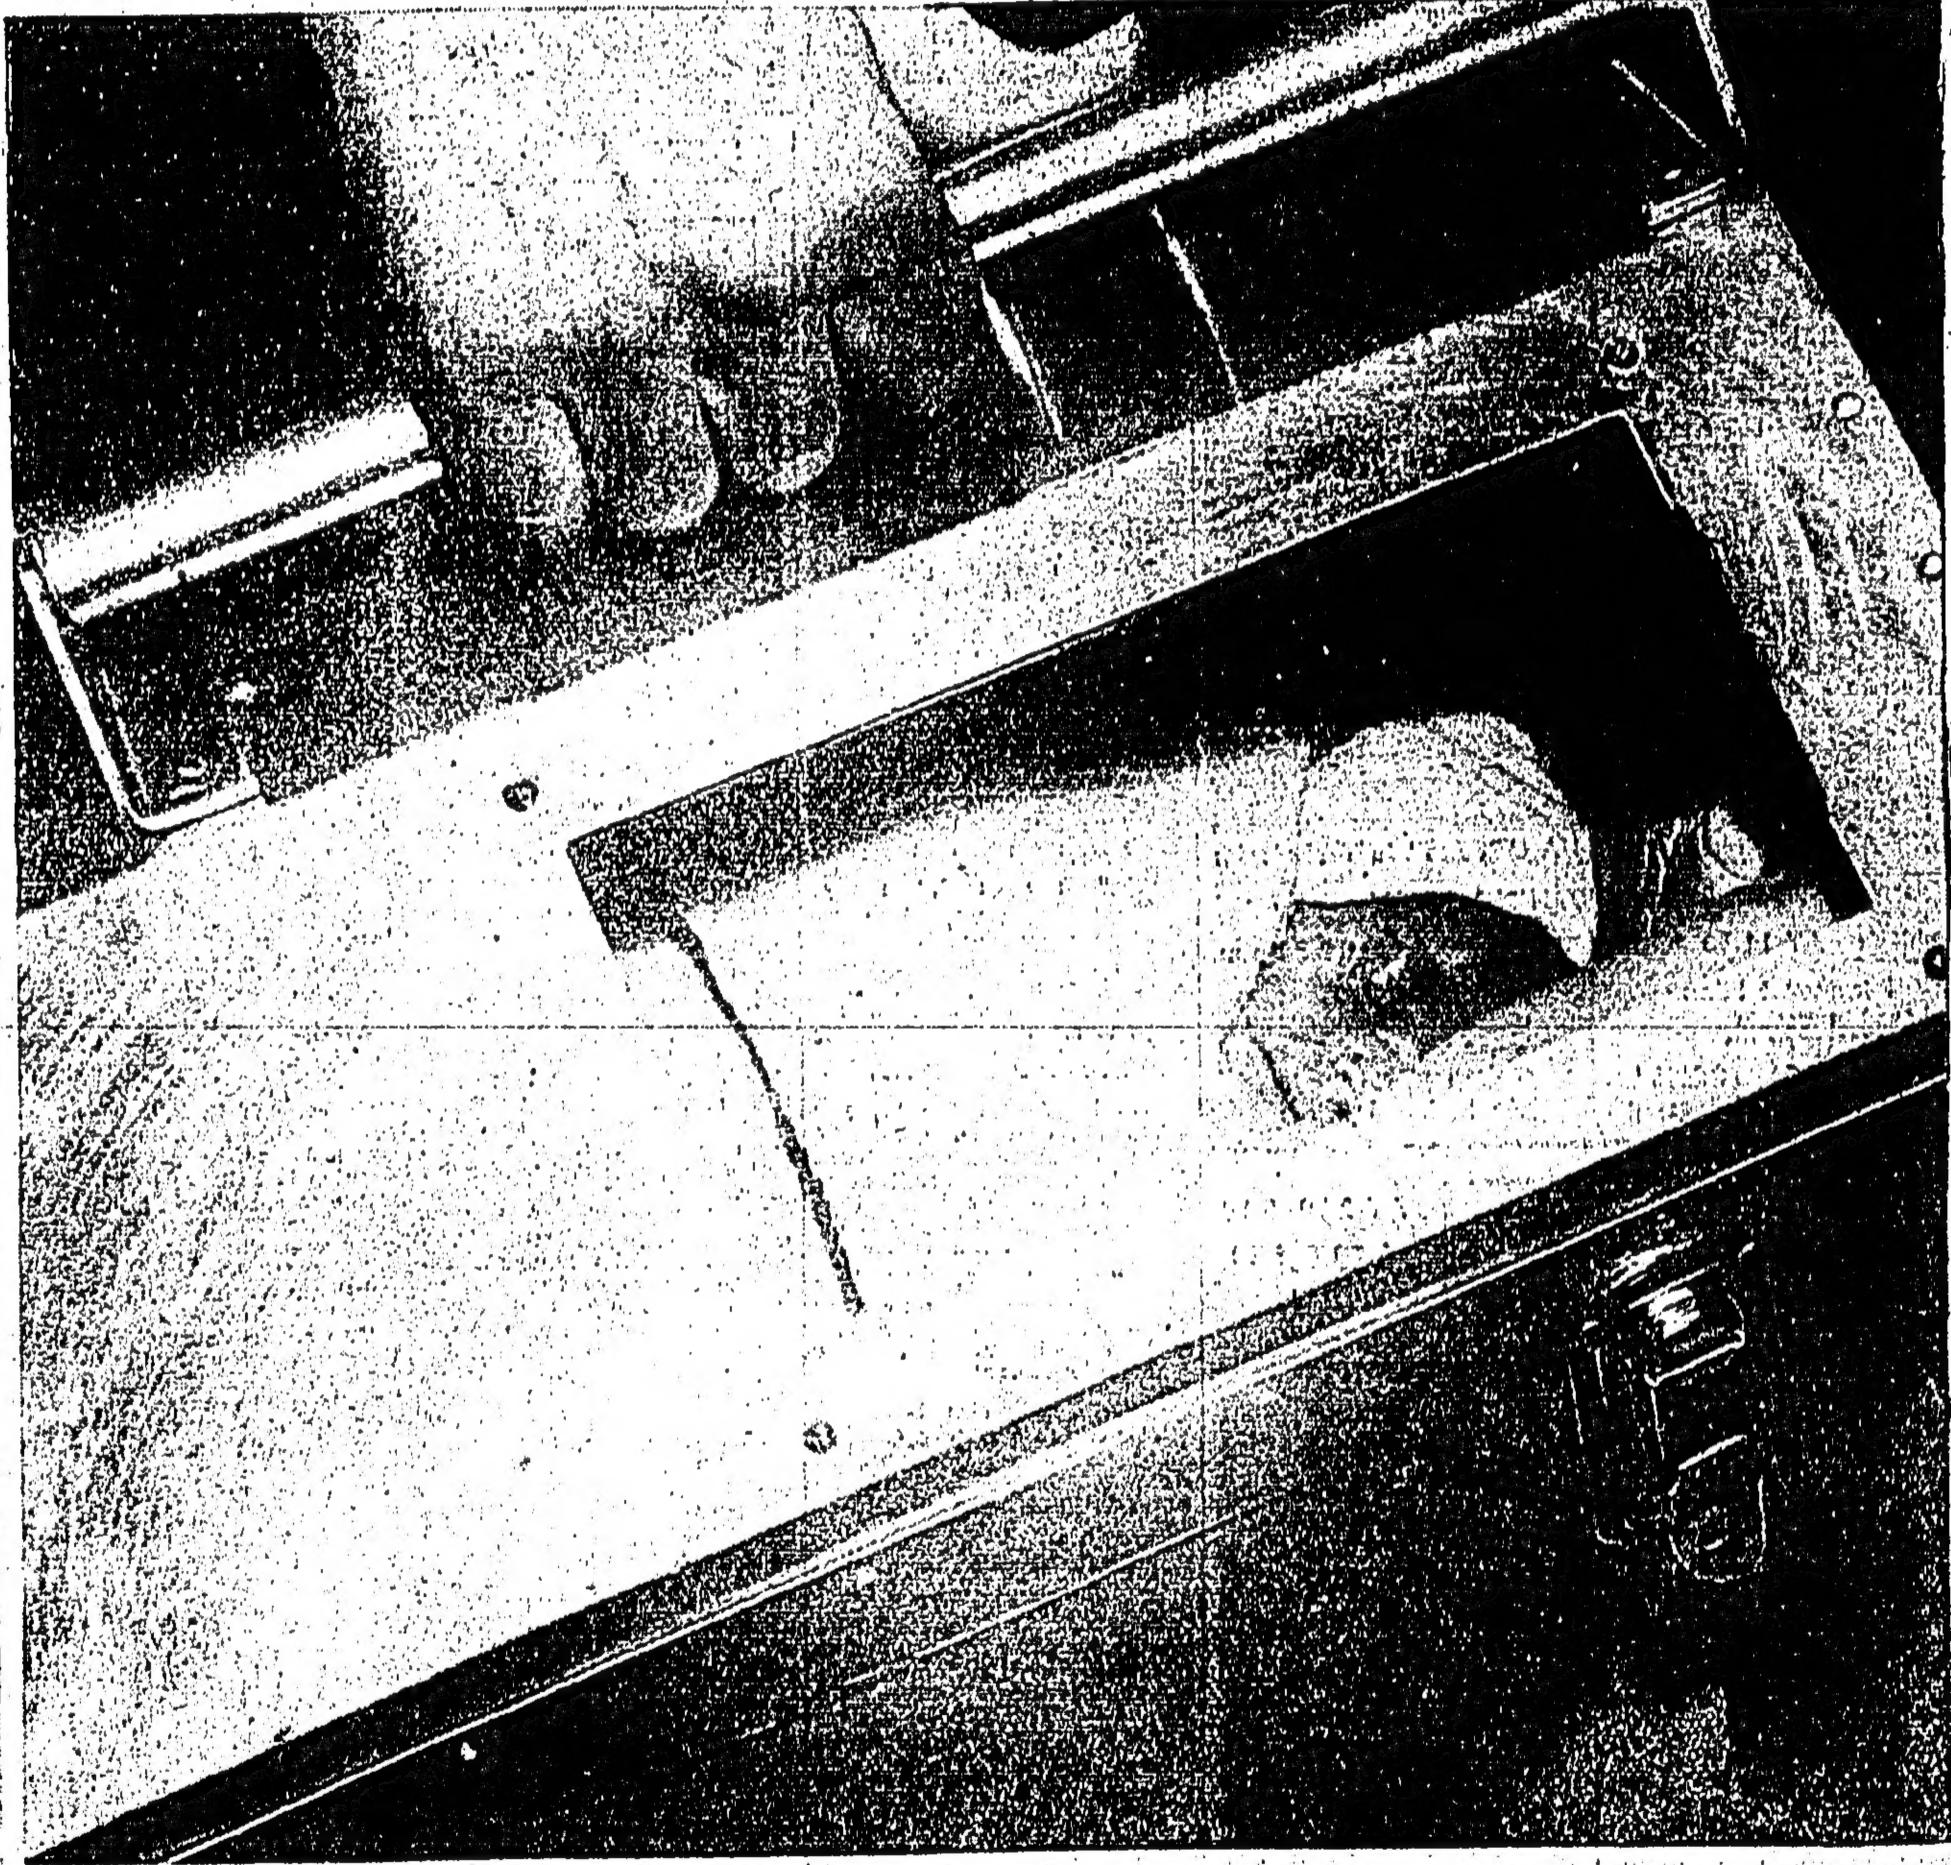

Answering call, nurse Mary Jane Conlon and driver Howard Richter prepare to leave Bellevue hespital on life-saving mission. Each nurse goes through extra six-week training course, is responsible for child being taken from one hospital to another.

THE EARLY ARRIVAL, two-pound, 12-ounce Lorrain Walters, is dressed in a sterilized flannel jacket for her ride in the incubator, which looks somewhat like a pet carrier.

ONE OF TRIPLETS, tiny Lorrain is taken to her mother's room before leaving hospital. The nurse is the only person allowed to touch the infant once carrier has been closed.

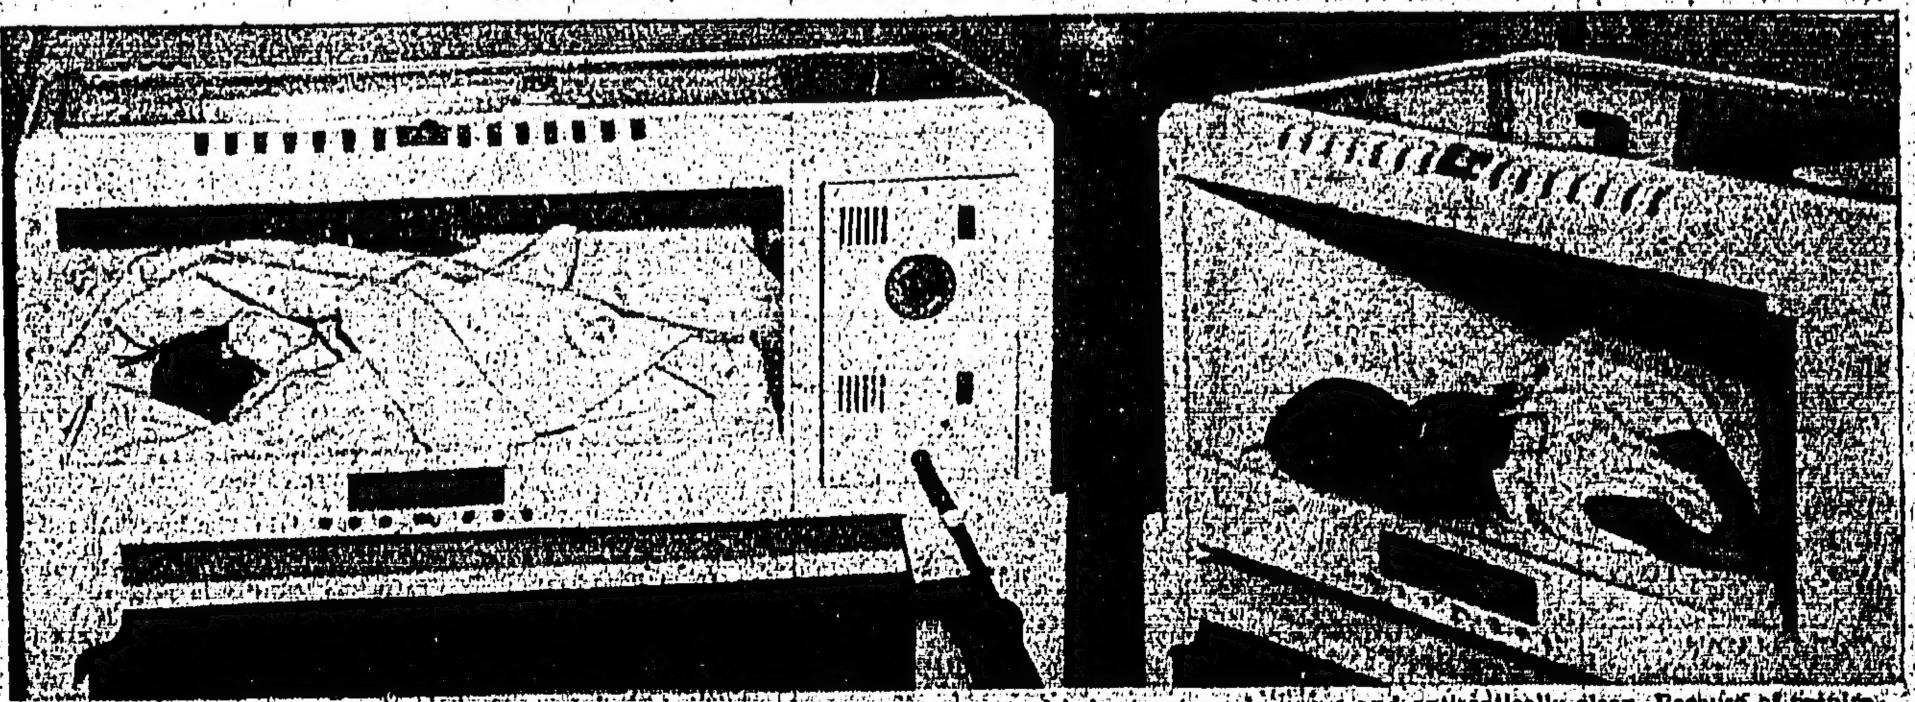

SLEEPING PEACEFULLY, Lorrain is carried to a Premature Ambulance which will transport her to a larger hospital. The vehicle carries two units to step up the heat when necessary, but nearest, warmth comes from hot water bottles in incubator. Heat helps preserve the baby's energy during the trip.

A CONSTANT check is kept on oxygen dials to make sure air is flowing evenly. "Preemies" are completely formed but because of their immaturity cannot breathe properly.

BROUGHT SAFELY to Lincoln hospital, Lorrald (left) is placed in a large intubator which will be ber home until she's a "big girl"—about five pountis.

How's your game these days? Poor putts? Bad chips? What you need is a golf lesson, so let's have one from Alex King, who gave a £200 lesson to Belgian Arthur Devulder.

King's speciality is his chip shot, and here is Arthur Lacey, British Ryder Cup captain, to explain just how he does it.

Good strong arms and hands enable King to make the best use of a strictly orthodox, modern, overlapping grip, says Arthur Lacey. Firm, fairly upright, stance

Two Exhibition Softball Tussles Tomorrow At Caroline Hill

"GRANDSTAND"

As a result of a misunderstanding in a verbal agreement, South China's Reds had to rake up a scratch team against the US Navy and were subsequently nosed out 7-6 in the crucial Summer Softball League game during the week.

Prior to the commencement of the game, which was delayed for an hour, both managers failed to arrive at a satisfactory settlement and after Navy indicated their intention of claiming the game by forfeiture, South China agreed to play under protest.

Two exhibition tussles will be played off tomorrow at South China's Caroline Hill Studium and convener Chev N. Tsol. has arranged for the home team to meet ..... the champion Braves outfit at 11.30 a.m. after Pandas tangle with the US Navy in the cirtain-raiser at 10 a.m.

US NAVY'S DOUBLE

The Reds jumped right into the lead in the first frame when P. H. Lee rapped cut a rousing fourmaster that cleared the rightdeld fence and would have chased a mate home ahead of aim but for an interference at be plate on a rundown play. The gobs failed to settle down to hurlor P. C. Wong's slow Pandas will have most of their teasers and, although they managed three scattered hits in wrote softball history in the Ragg Mopps v Pandas their half, failed to nudge a north, tally across.

In the second frame the Caroliners pushed over two more runs when P. H. Lee clouted out his second safety to pave the way for Y. L. Yam and C. M. "Lefty" Tsang to dent the rub-

The sailors turned the tables in the third when they blasted out a total of five hits (Mock, Moore, Podmore, Donaldson and Shepler) to register three runs, and when Mock blasted out his four-base clout to deep centre, the Navy snotched the lead for the first time.

A determined Reds outfit fought back with a homer by P. C. Wong who really laid the hickory on the horschide and made it a new ballgame with the score knotted 4-all.

With two away in the sixth semester, Y. L. Yam singled but the scoring threat would have been snuffed were it not for the fact that the gods gave P. H. Lee a new lease on life when keystoner Bradley fumbled an easy grounder. Yam eventually scored to break the tic.

With the final stanza coming up, the Navy outfit were fighting hard to get back into the ballgame and when the first two batters died it was up to "slugger" Dollinger to bring home the bacon.

Perhaps too much was expected of fair-headed Dollinger who went hitless three successive times at bat after a brilliant showing the previous weeks, but fate smiled on him kindly and allowed him a freak single just over second base.

With the breaks turning in their favour again, rightfielder Moore stepped into the rectangle and blasted out a clothesline drive which was good for il round trip and two runs. After their dream of victory faded, the Reds were unable to produce the spark which would have started out a last inning rally, and were unable to make up the deficit

The Ragg Mopps underrated their opponents once more and succumbed to the Navy 3-2 to slip another rung in the League in their last turn at bat.

Moore's heavy hitting came to the fore again and the gobs chalked up their first run when he smacked a smoking liner through the centre which was marked for distant places.

The drive was fumbled in the pastures and by the time the apple was retrieved, Moore had crossed the pan.

Another single by Bradley i the fourth added further to the Navy score, but Eriksen's single behind an error alimmed, the margin when Chandu Pedruco romped home.

The Moppers scored once more to even the count, but it pilot. Mock's home-run which broke up the ballgame as the Navy's playing manager spiked every sack on a tour of the bases.

> There is a "whistle buoy" off Cape Cod, and often it will run for over a year after being "charged" with gas. It has a light of 390 candle power, and is reported to have been seen at a distance of 20 miles. All the buoys must be relieved at least once a year. It is quite a task to replenish the "lights of the sen." They must also be given, fresh coats of paint and otherwise overhauled.

In New York harbour there are buoys that ring, buoys that "whistle" and one large one that is called the "clock buoy" as it tells the hours of the tides in large figures.

Often buoys are damaged by ocean steamers and sometimes they are dragged or blown by flerce winds from their stations; these mishaps keep the "tenders' busy the year round.

Of all the buoys, the bell buoys are the most interesting, although the whistle buoys are good to hear when there is a storm at sea. Electricity is taking the place of gas; batteries are now installed in the new buoys and other signposts of the

SATURDAY, JULY 7

YF you are born today, you are one of those who intend to live your own life quite as you envision it without intervention from others. If you can find someone to there your life-someone who will let you go your own way—then all is well. Otherwise, you might never wed. Actually, the best thing for you would be an early marriage, for then you might learn, more easily the elements of co-operation which are so necessary in a competitive world.

You have a great deal of tact when it comes to dealing with other people, for you have learned, as do all executives, that kid-glove tactics can cometimes be more effective than the Iron fist. However, no one is ever to forget that beneath your very diplomatic exterior, there is an iron will and the ability to shake off your cuffs when and if, the time for it arrives. If you can't get what you want the first way, you will try the second. :

You have the ability to make money and you don't intend to die poor. Your chief interests are intellectual—but you want the arts to pay well or you will go into some other field for a life carper and save your "art" for a hobby. Original and inventive, you will do things your own way. You are fundamentally quite sensitive and suffer intensely when criticised. Although you may not show it, the hurt remains-and the one who does the injury is seldom forgotten. You will "pay back" for it

"Playing Fast and Loose." Why do we say "play-ing fast and loose?" According to one explanation this saying comes from archery,

During a contest an archer who was about to "Fast!"-a warning speciators to stand or stay where they were. careless would loose his shaft before his warning could take effect. Playing fast and loose has thus come mean saying one thing and doing another - or being irresponsible.

The Hague, July 6. Dr Ali Shayegeen, Persian observer to the Fleriey International Court here, said today that he felt that the 10 judges who voted for interim measures yesterday on the question of Persian oil nationalisation were not impartial.

In a statement to newspapermen in the presence of the Persian Minister, Mr Hussain Navab, Dr Shayegeen said at the Persian Legation here, "The majority of the Court passed a judgment on interim measures but they did not rule on their competence. .Two of the neutral judges of the Court, however, had the same opinion as we have but the majority, perhaps under political considerations and perhaps British influence, voted for interim measures."
